Green Acres and Baseball Legends

Frederick Brewington, Esq.

This item is a three day stay in June or July at a country home in Summit, New York. Nestled on 5.25 acres in the beautiful Catskill mountains at 2,100 feet above sea level, this welcoming place provides quiet comfort and all the amenities of home as you gaze from the deck looking at a private lake which offers all the best that nature can provide. It is three and a half hours away from Long Island and just a short car ride away for Cooperstown, the home of the Baseball Hall of Fame – where two people can enjoy a complimentary visit. Also close to Howes Caverns, a national recognized popular tourist attraction, provides cave-goers with a sense of caving or spelunking; and the historic Albany, New York's state capital, this hideaway. The main house sleeps six, has a full kitchen, outdoor activities (hiking, fishing, and ATVing-just to start) and is the perfect escape to relax, rekindle old friendships and leave the "rat race" behind. The package includes full access to the house, the property and all that it offers. Surrounded by museums and historic sites there is more than enough available in the countryside to create a weekend that you will never forget. Bringing your own food and cooking your own meals is all you need to worry about. A bargain at any price, the starting bid for this dream weekend is $500.00. This is a perfect item for two or three couples to bid on together.

Filmmaker

Professor Marjorie Silver and Doug Block

Have an idea for a movie, a documentary, but don't know how to take it to the next level? The perfect gift for you or someone you care about. Internationally acclaimed, award-winning documentary filmmaker, Doug Block (51 Birch Street, The Kids Grow Up, 112 Weddings), helped enable first-time filmmaker, Jon Foy, to win the 2011 Sundance Film Festival Prize for best director of a documentary (Resurrect Dead: The Mystery of the Toynbee Tiles)! Doug has generously donated a one hour consultation with you or the person of your choice to advise the would-be filmmaker on any aspect of producing and distributing a film.
